

Brief Curriculum Vitae (complete version available upon request)

Leo Zaibert

Education: 1997: Ph. D., Philosophy. State University of New York, Buffalo. Highest Honors and winner of the Perry Dissertation Award.
1989: J.D., (Abogado). Universidad Santa María, Caracas, Venezuela.

Areas of Specialization: Philosophy of Law, Ethics, Social and Political Philosophy, Philosophy of Mind and Action.

Current Employment: Professor and Chair, Department of Philosophy, Union College; Director, Law and Humanities Minor, Union College.

Previous Employment, Fellowships, and Extended Visits: Oxford University (forthcoming 2013), University of Toronto (forthcoming 2013), Pace University, University of Geneva, Amherst College (Copeland Fellow), University of Wisconsin-Parkside, Alexander von Humboldt Research Fellow (in Leipzig and Saarbruecken), Visiting Fellow at the Institute for Law and Philosophy of Rutgers University (declined), National Endowment for the Humanities (at Amherst College), State University of New York at Buffalo, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México (declined), and Universidad Simón Bolívar (Venezuela).

Publications: Author of over 70 publications, including two sole-authored books (Punishment and Retribution Aldershot: Ashgate (2006), and Five Ways Patricia can Kill her Husband: A Theory of Intentionality and Blame, Chicago: Open Court (2005)), one edited volume (Forgiveness, for The Monist), and over 40 full-length articles. Representative recent (or forthcoming) publications include:
“Philosophy” in The Oxford Handbook of Criminal Law, (Markus Dubber and Tatjana Hoernle, eds.), Oxford: Oxford University Press. Forthcoming 2014, ca. 10,000 words,
“The Instruments of Abolition, or Why Retributivism is the Only Real Justification of Punishment”, Law and Philosophy. Forthcoming 2012, ca. 10,500 words.
“Beyond Bad: Punishment Theory Meets the Problem of Evil”, Midwest Studies in Philosophy 36 (2012): 93-111.
“The Moralists Strikes Back”, New Criminal Law Review 14.1 (2011): 139-161.
“A Non-Aretaic Return to Aristotle”, Archiv für Rechts- und Sozialphilosophie. 97.2 (2011): 235-250

Conferences (and workshop participant): Over 80, in Austria, Canada, the Czech Republic, Germany, Great Britain, Israel, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Scotland, the United States, and Venezuela.

Editorial and Refereeing Work: Member of the Editorial Board of Law and Philosophy, The Monist, New Criminal Law Review, and Criminal Law and Philosophy. Refereeing engagements include: Canadian Journal of Philosophy, Ethical Theory and Moral Practice, Journal of Moral Philosophy, Journal of Philosophical Research, Journal of Social Philosophy, Law and Philosophy, Legal Theory, MacGraw-Hill, Mind, Oxford University Press, Philosophia, Philosophical Explorations, Philosophy Today, Routledge, and Social Philosophy and Practice. Also, six short reviews for The Times Literary Supplement.

Teaching: Over 25 different courses in my areas of expertise during the last 15 years. Member of Dissertation Committees for Omar Astorga (Universidad Simón Bolívar), Luis Ernesto Chiesa (Columbia University), and Emma Tieffenbach (University of Geneva).

Languages: Spanish (native proficiency); English (near-native proficiency); reading competence in French, German, Italian, Latin, and Portuguese.